Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer moving image file is a short video that includes brief shots of a young girl who is not wearing a top. The partial nudity is very brief, it appears natural in the context of the wider activities depicted and it is not focussed upon. Therefore the video does not promote or support, or tend to promote or support, the exploitation of children for sexual purposes under s3(2)(a) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993 (FVPC Act), nor does it exploit the nudity of its subject under s3(3)(b) of the FVPC Act. This computer moving image file is therefore classified unrestricted. This classification places no limitation on the right to freedom of expression contained in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990.
